

Live Webinar — Compassionate Boundaries: A Trauma-Responsive Approach for Caregivers

Thursday, July 31, 2025 | 6:00 PM - 8:00 PM

Caregiving asks so much of you—and when the days get tough, having the right tools can make all the difference. This webinar explores how to set compassionate, trauma-responsive boundaries with children. Rather than relying on control or punishment, trauma-responsive boundaries center safety, connection, and co-regulation. Through interactive games, practical examples, and real-life scenarios, caregivers will develop tools to navigate challenging moments with greater empathy and consistency. Together, we will reflect on how our own boundary styles show up in caregiving and how we can shift from reactive responses to repair-focused practices that support healing and trust.
