

Resources for Transracial Families

Educational resources and support services are important for all families. For transracial families, having access to age-appropriate resources can help your family engage in interactive discussions about race and ethnicity. These culturally sensitive conversations will empower children and youth to develop positive self-identities.

From the Resource Library

- I'm Brown and My Sister Isn't, by Robbie O'Shea (for preschool ages)
- Horace, by Holly Keller (for ages 2 - 8)
- The Colors of Us, by Karen Katz (for ages 4 - 8)
- Beyond the Whiteness of Whiteness, by Jane Lazarre (for tweens and teens)
- In Their Voices: Black Americans on Transracial Adoption, by Rhonda M. Roorda (for adults)
- Fostering Across Wisconsin Newsletter (Summer 2019): Transracial Parenting

Tip Sheet

- Promoting Healthy Cultural Identity for Children of Color Living in Transracial Families

Training From Champion Classrooms

- Transracial Parenting Series (FREE recorded training series)

