Statewide & Online/Alternative Support Groups

CHADD's ADHD Parents Together

Website: <https://healthunlocked.com/adhd-parents>

The ADHD Parents Together community is a place to discuss the impact of ADHD on both you and your child. Talking about the challenges you face as a parent of a child with ADHD can be hard, but sometimes, there's nothing more helpful than talking with others who are in the same boat. Our community is one where we can all have the conversations we need to have, share our experiences, and support each other.

Families of Russian and Ukrainian Adoptions (FRUA)

Email: fruauppermidwest@gmail.com

Website: <http://www.frua.org/>

The mission of FRUA is to provide hope, help, and community for adoptive families in a very personal, localized way. This is done by forming a community willing to share experiences, knowledge, and resources dealing with medical, educational, parenting, and adoption issues. FRUA also offers the opportunity to celebrate multiple heritages of our families and to forge lifelong friendships. Send an email or visit the website to connect with your region, to find a FRUA regional chapter contact, or to inquire about setting up a FRUA Parent Organized District (POD) near you.

Families Rising

Website: <https://wearefamiliesrising.org/parent-group/region/Wisconsin/>

You are not alone! Find more caregivers with shared experiences and get peer-to-peer help.

Parent groups allow you to connect with other families with similar stories, get and give advice, and feel supported through every step of your family's journey.

Families Rising maintains a database with many adoption-related support groups from across the US and Canada.

Please note that some groups serve a region or even a state, while others serve a smaller community.

Please continue to join us for this opportunity to connect with other relative caregivers who are the primary caregivers for their grandchildren, nieces, and nephews, and to share the joys and challenges of being a relative caregiver.

National Association of Adoptees & Parents (NAAP) Adoptee Paths to Recovery

Contact Person: David B. Bohl

Email: David@NAAPUnited.org

Website: <https://naapunited.org/adoptee-paths-to-recovery#:~:text=Adoptee%20Paths%20to%20Recovery%20Support,can%20benefit%20from%20sharing%20together.>

Adoptee Paths to Recovery Support Meetings are non-denominational and based on the philosophy that adoptees experiencing any type of addiction (substance-related and/or behavioral) have much in common and can benefit from sharing together. These meetings offer a safe place where people can share their addiction recovery challenges, experiences, and solutions, as well as how recovery has changed their lives. Groups are facilitated by a professional with expertise in recovery and adoption, both professional and lived. They hold meetings that are open to everyone, regardless of the uniqueness of their pattern or patterns of addiction. It is a way for adoptees seeking and practicing all types of recovery to come together and learn from one another. Meetings are virtual, and the meeting schedule is available on their Eventbrite page.

Latin America Adoptive Families of Wisconsin, Inc. (LAAF-WI, Inc.)

Contact Person: Tami Stubbe

Wisconsin Foster and Adoptive Parents Association, Inc.
(WFAPA)

Contact Person: Tina Christopherson, President

E-mail: twfapa@new.rr.com

Phone: 715-938-6667

Website: www.wfapa.org

WFAPA is a non-profit, peer- and volunteer-based organization that supports and advocates for foster and adoptive parents by offering training and support programs. Members are adoptive and foster parents, as well as those interested in child welfare. WFAPA holds two conferences a year, which bring in highly qualified speakers who help educate on how to handle and better understand tough issues. A newsletter is sent to members four times a year. WFAPA board members meet quarterly with DCFS on foster and adoptive care issues.

SAAN-Surviving Allegations of Abuse and Neglect is a peer-driven support network, the purpose of which is to minimize the trauma of foster and adoptive families while undergoing an allegation without compromising the integrity of that investigation.

FASSP-Foster & Adoptive Support & Preservation Program is designed to meet the needs of foster and adoptive parents statewide through a network of peer-driven support and information to help preserve foster and adoptive families. It is a branch of the SAAN program, and they are both connected to WFAPA. FASPP volunteers are highly trained to provide you with information and/or resources to guide you through various issues.

Connecting Bridges – Milwaukee County

Contact Person: Jean Northway, President

Email: connectingbridgesmilwaukee@gmail.com

Website: <https://www.facebook.com/groups/208378199276317/>

Connecting Bridges was formed in October 2009 by foster parents who volunteer their time to help make the difficult parts of foster care a little easier. Their primary and immediate goal is to foster and adopt children by supporting their foster and adoptive parents. Another important goal is to support those trying to “mend” the Milwaukee County foster care system by helping those within it work together to serve the children in the system more efficiently. This group has an active Facebook page where members are encouraged to post questions and to seek and provide support to other members. Connecting Bridges also has occasional in-person meetings, which are posted on the Facebook page.
